

WORLD PATIENT SAFETY DAY

World Patient Safety Day : 17 September :-

Since patient safety is so important to healthcare, the World Health Organization (WHO) created World Patient Safety Day to increase public awareness of the issue and encourage global efforts to improve healthcare safety. Every year on September 17, we observe World Patient Safety Day. In honor of the anniversary of the World Health Assembly's adoption of the resolution on patient safety, September 17, 2019 was designated as World Patient Safety Day. This year's theme is "Improving Diagnosis for Patient Safety".

Iran Launches Second Satellite This Year :-

Iran launched a research satellite into orbit using a Revolutionary Guards-built rocket, according to official television. The launch comes as the US and European countries accuse Iran of delivering ballistic missiles to Russia, which will most certainly be utilized in its battle with Ukraine in the coming weeks. Iran has disputed it. The Chamran-1 satellite, launched into space by the Qaem-100 satellite carrier, has been placed in a 550-kilometer (340-mile) orbit and its first signals have been received, according to the media. The Revolutionary Guards' Aerospace Force designed and built the solid fuel carrier.

Oscar Piastri Claims Maiden Victory At Azerbaijan Grand Prix :-

Oscar Piastri of McLaren won his first Formula One race at the Azerbaijan Grand Prix, marking an important milestone in his career. The 23-year-old McLaren driver won his second race of the season in Baku, passing Charles Leclerc and holding off the Ferrari driver until an incident on the penultimate lap resulted in a virtual safety car finish. Piastri's first win at the Hungarian Grand Prix in July was overshadowed by a team orders argument in which Lando Norris grudgingly relinquished the lead to allow his Melbourne-born teammate to cross first.
